Amended Rail Tariffs and Their Time of Operation.

General Agent G. B. Johnson of the A. & C. R. R. Company has received amendments to transcontinental freight tariffs, east and west bound, making common point rates to and from all Eastern terminals applicable to and from Astoria on practically all commodities, via the new North Bank road, the Spokane, Portland and Seattle, from Vancouver to Kennebec. Special tariffs covering canned salmon become effective March 30, and the eastbound lumber tariff SR-963, becomes effective via the new line on April 28. Other special tariffs are being amended as rapidly as it is possible to give the statutory notice to the Interstate Commerce Commission. Until the completion of the bridges across the Columbia and Willamette rivers at Vancouver and Portland traffic will be handled from Kalama to Vancouver by the Northern Pacific and through train service has been arranged for between Kalama and Kennebec, making close connections with the eastbound trains from the latter point. While this reduces the actual running time more than 24 hours it also eliminates the possibility of delays to freight shipments occasioned by the congestion of traffic over the Cascades, which has been so great at times during the past two

NEED KING'S CONSENT.

ROME, March 28.—A semi-official statement in Italia says that all the reports concerning the engagement between Duc D'Abuzzi and Miss Elkins are for the most part imaginative, as the duke could not decide the matter without the consent of the King, which he has not as yet asked, it being entirely opposed to court etiquette to make such a request by letter or cable. The duke is expected here Wednesday, when the decision will be taken.

SMELTER TO OPEN.

The sad intelligence of the grave illness of the father of John Simmington reached the home of that gentleman yesterday morning and he and Mrs. Simmington departed on last night's train for Portland, from whence they will take the overland flyer today, bound for Ashland, Nebraska. The elder Mr. Simmington is 83 years of age and was rarely ill until overtaken by his present affliction. It is the hope of all friends here that Mr. and Mrs. Simmington may find the aged sufferer rallied to the point of safety when they arrive there.
